Low Pressure Brings Wintry Mess February 7th

A steady snow entered the area between 10:00 AM and 12:00 PM February 7th with temperatures ranging from 28 - 31 degrees. The snow quickly became moderate to heavy at times before changing to sleet and freezing rain between 1:00 and 3:00 PM that afternoon. Freezing rain persisted into the afternoon before changing to plain rain after 3:00 to 5:00 PM as temperatures warmed into the mid to upper 30s. The changing of precipitation types made this a very dense accumulation that was heavier than normal.
